The National COVID Cohort Collaborative (N3C) Workshop Recap

Last week the CCTS and UAB Informatics Institute hosted a workshop to introduce the N3C platform to our research communities. N3C offers access to health record data from a cohort of COVID-19 patients drawn from across the nation, providing statistical power that no single institution can achieve on its own. You can prepare to utilize this resource by visiting our website to access the presentation slides. The recording of the workshop will also be made available on the CCTS Video Channel soon.
